Features and benefits – Standard Solution

Website: Sage's comprehensive, easy-to-use website is full of guidance and advice. Divided into three sections and 45 topics, it helps translate the law into plain English, as well as advising on the best health and safety practices. The service is continually updated with the latest statute and case law developments and its accuracy and relevancy is continually monitored by a bench of professionals.

Document templates: With a suite of Health and Safety documentation, you'll enjoy easy access to over 100 procedures, step-by-step guides, letters, policies, forms and contracts of employment. You can also download the documents instantly in a Microsoft Word format, so you can print them directly onto your company-headed paper.

FAQs: There's an online bank of answers to the most frequently asked health and safety and employment law questions. This is continually updated with the answers to questions asked of Sage's HS professionals.

Email alerts: Before any legally required change to Health and Safety law, you'll receive an email alert to tell you what you need to know and do. You'll also be provided with all the tools to remain compliant.

Monthly newsletters: You'll be kept up-to-date with the latest developments in health and safety and employment law, by delivering them straight to your inbox in a newsletter format.

Service updates: Because the Sage Health and Safety Advice website is constantly evolving, you'll be sent an update of the most recent and important additions to the service each month.

As well as the standard service, there is Sage Health and Safety Advice Professional, which includes all of the features of Sage Health and Safety Advice plus:

Professional advice: You'll be able to email any questions, and speak directly to a qualified health and safety professional and receive instant, legally reliable advice over the phone.

Quality service: Each of Sage's qualified professionals has more than 10 years' experience, and their advice will always be specific to your situation. Obviously, some cases aren't as straightforward as others, and in those instances the team would carry out a thorough investigation before offering advice.

Completely traceable: Sage have made sure that you can track back over every incident. So should you need to refer to the history of an issue, you can. And as Sage always try to provide you with the same professional advisor wherever possible, you shouldn't have to repeat the same information over and over.

Compliance trail: By providing you with a clear compliance trail, you'll have a concise history of advice that you've acted on. You can even be supplied with an appropriate report, which pieces together the parts of an incident, which in turn can save you a lot of time and money should you need to deal with a solicitor.
